Stretching is NOT for me. My last relaxer was October 2009 and I just relaxed this past Tuesday. I so missed my hair and the ease of wearing it out. When I was stretching, the days that I wanted to wear my hair out I had to use so much heat and so much product to get the results that I wanted and don't forget that one workout and my hair reverted. Today I had my car windows down and it felt so good to feel my hair literally blowing in the wind, to feel that breeze hit my scalp. So again, its for some but not for me, however, I will say that I can go more than 8 weeks at a time now but will NEVER stretch it to six months again.

MIZANI BUTTER BLENDS SENSITIVE SCALP RELAXER - AAAAAA+++++

Never again will I go back. I am so impressed and hoooooooked!!! Tuesday I relaxed my hair using the Mizani Butter Blends (sensitive scalp) relaxer. First I applied the Mizani Honey Shield on my previously relaxed hair, then applied the relaxer in sections. If you want to underprocess your hair then just apply some of the Honey Shield to the new growth. The consistency of the relaxer itself was a smooth, thick and creamy mixture that didn't smell like garbage. After rinsing out the product my hair felt SOFT, next I used the Mizani Phormula-7 to remove all the remaining relaxer, my hair felt even SOFTER! After I air dried then styled my hair dried it looked so healthy, lots of movement, softness galore and there was NO BREAKAGE!!!! Normally after I relax my hair I have to deep condition for days in a row just to put the moisture back in it. Not this time, after deep conditioning immediately after relaxing I was set. I'm in love and will use nothing else going forward.

OH SOOOOO SICK OF STRETCHING

Right now guys I'm 18 weeks post and so sick of stretching. I will NEVAH stretch for this long again, sorry just don't like it. The thing I don't like about going this long is there's no versatility, I'm stuck wearing a bun or braids and when I want to wear it straight it requires way too much heat, actually more heat than I'd normally use if my hair was relaxed. I had to throw in some braids to keep me from going crazy and plan to keep these in until beginning to mid April (or until I get sick of them.....I miss my hair so much man). Once I take em out I'll immediately do the Aphogee Two Step protein treatment and a deep condition with Baba De Caracol to prep for the relaxer that will follow a week later (using Mizani Butter Blends - will review that as well).....oooooooh I can't wait for April to relax!!

Needed to run some errands last Saturday....and look cute!! I had been wearing a protective style all week (see the previous post) and got sick of that real quick, so I decided to give myself a heat pass. After deep conditioning overnight with Halka Baba De Caracol, I applied Lacio Lacio leave in, Salerm 21 and Kera Care Creme Press (this is a heat protectant as well) then air dried. Once air dried, I flat ironed the roots then went over with a 1 1/2 inch curler applying a little Kera care to each piece. I just simply curled everything going back then used my fingers to style. Of course after the next day's workout I cowashed to give my hair a little more attention after all that heat.

STILL STRETCHING

Okay believe it or not these pics are 11 weeks post. After a workout I co-washed with V05 Moisture milks (strawberry), sprayed with a rosewater & glycerine mixture, applied a quarter size of Salerm 21 then slathered on some Elasta QP to smooth it out. I also applied some castor oil to my ends to help thicken them up.
