3 Hot Mama Daily Hair-Product Picks

I'm waiting for the magical product that will permanently moisturize and de-tangle my natural locks. Fortunately to assist me in my quest for the perfect product, I have an opportunity to sample (yes, I'm talking freebies) lots of beauty and hair care products. Here are three products I recently discovered:

Yes to Carrots Hair & Scalp Mud Mask

Yes to Carrots Hair and Scalp Mud Mask: It takes me hours to comb through and re-twist my hair when I take it out. This super moisturizing hair and scalp mask contains carrot seed oil, carrot juice, pumpkin, sweet potato, and dead sea mud. The product made it much easier to de-tangle my hair and left it feeling soft and looking shiny. I even used it as a leave-in conditioner.

My verdict: I say yes to Yes to Carrots and will use it often!

WEN Cleansing Conditioner: The conditioner claims to do the work of a shampoo, conditioner, deep conditioner, detangler and leave-in conditioner, with "a perfect balance of herbs and natural ingredients that cleanse your scalp and hair while moisturizing, soothing, strengthening and adding shine." WEN is a favorite with women of color including Nicole Murphy (Eddie Murphy's ex-wife) and actress Della Reese.

My verdict: My hair was easier to comb through while it was wet. But it didn't solve my "shrinkage problem" once I rinsed and dried my hair.

Jane Carter Solution: These hair products were developed by veteran hair stylist Jane Carter and infused with natural butters and essential oils to combat dry hair. This is great news because my hair's biggest hinderance is that it becomes dry and brittle without a good moisturizing regimen.

My verdict: I tried the Revitalizing Leave-In Conditioner. I used it along with the Yes to Carrots mask, so I can't really tell how effective it was. Next time I will try the full Jane Carter Solution system for the best results.
